The service at the Baptist Mission last evening was largely attended, and all were much interested in the able sermon delivered by Rev. Mr. Sowell, who is an eloquent preacher. Mr. Sowell also lectured at the court house yesterday afternoon, but, owing to some misunderstanding, the building was not opened in time, and many who went early did not get in. SAHUALLA-SAMOHANO

Pretty Wedding Which Took Place Saturday Evening.

The marriage of Miguel Sahualla, the well known merchant of this city, and Miss Rosa Samohano, who belongs to one of our prominent Mexican families, was solemnized Saturday evening, at 8 o'clock, at the Catholic church. It was a very pretty wedding, and was witnessed by a large gathering. The church was brilliantly lighted with hundreds of wax candles, and the altar was beautiful in gold and white. Promptly at the hour named, the strains of the wedding march filled the church with its melody, played by Mrs. Annie S. Putegnat on the organ, and the bridal party entered in the following order:

Miss Concha Samohano and Mr. Jose Besteiro, Miss Eloisa Larrea and Mr. Antonio Larrea, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Putegnat, followed by the groom with Mrs. Samohano, mother of the bride, and finally the fair bride herself with her brother-in-law, Mr. Jesus Leiva. Two little flower girls preceded her.

The bride looked very sweet in a handsome gown of white silk, veil and orange blossoms, carrying a bouquet of white roses and ferns.

Miss Samohano wore white nun's veiling trimmed with lace, Mrs. Putegnat white silk trimmed with black velvet, and Miss Larrea white organdy. Each carried white roses and ferns.

At the conclusion of the solemn ceremony, the wedding march was played once more, and as the bridal party passed out of the church, the bells pealed forth joyously. From the church, the newly wedded pair and invited guests drove to the home of the bride's mother, where a reception was held.

Mr. and Mrs. Sahualla will make their home here, occupying a cottage on Madison street, opposite the Catholic rectory. They have the congratulations and good wishes of many friends.

The Biggest Cauliflower.

As handsome a specimen of cauliflower as was ever seen was left at THE HERALD office today by J. V. Adams, the well known colored farmer, as a specimen of what he is raising on his flourishing truck farm, a few miles from town. This head surpasses the large one mentioned recently from the Esperanza plantation, as it lacks but a few ounces of weighing six pounds, and measures 32½ inches in circumference. It is also firm and solid, and is a fine advertisement for Rio Grande soil. The truck patch on the Adams plantation is quite extensive, comprising several acres of fine hard-head cabbage, onions, cauliflower, etc.
